PLAYLIST FOR NOVEMBER 1973

WELL.....there have been some more changes at KZSU. There has been a change in the music management here, and with it will come a change in our direction. Let me introduce myself. My name is Francis Dickerson, and effective as of this very moment, I am the new Music Director. I held the same position here several years ago, and since then, besides continuing here as a dj, I have also picked up some experience in commercial radio - as both a dj and as music director. So, I can guarantee that the changeover here will go smoothly and that there will be none of the usual musical confusion that accompanies most changes at most college stations.

As far as direction goes.....we will be playing more of the familiar stuff than we have in the past and will be aware of all product that reaches us - albums and singles. I have a large staff of people who have volunteered to listen to the new stuff that comes in, so I promise you that everything that we receive, every album and every single will get a listen. And our policy of really giving new artists and new material a try will continue. So, keep the music comin' in and I'll keep you posted on the reaction to your product.

NEARING THE FINISH LINE:

As this playlist nears completion, there are a couple of things I would like to add. First, we have a couple of shows that feature oldies almost exclusively. These shows, as you probably are already aware of, are extremely popular - particularly on University campuses and in the surrounding communities. We could really use some Oldies collection-type albums. I know Buddah has Dick Clark's "Twenty Years Of Rock And Roll", and Mercury has a couple of collection lp's; we've got Columbia's stuff and the UA Gold Anthologys - but anyway, if you got any extra oldie samplers floating around, could you send them our way? Thanks - and we promise that we will mention the albums that we're pulling the individual songs out of so if the audience is duly inspired, they can go buy it. Okay? (Oldies also get a fair amount of play on our regular shows too.)

Secondly, if you have any questions that may not have been answered in this or any other playlist, please call me. I'll be happy to talk with any of you at your convenience.

All for now,

Francis
